Dear Epping Rams

Thank you for the invite to attend one of your home games this year. As you know, I pride myself on grass roots rugby and love watching subbies games, especially since you are having a great season. As you know, it is impossible to attend all venues but so far I have managed to watch Randwick, Easts and Waverly which has been a real eye-opener to see struggling clubs working tirelessly to keep rugby alive. I have been to Epping once, by mistake, as my chauffeur misheard me when I asked to go to my favourite coffee shop called Summersville, in Coogee. It was my first time outside the Eastern suburbs and I was a little scared but thankfully my personal security guard was also in the Audi.

In your letter you also requested some funding to renovate your facilities, including the change rooms and canteen area. I agree, one shower area per change room, a small canteen cooking area and limited undercover space are challenging issues for a small club wishing to grow. However, I remember when I played for the Mosman team in the 70s, we used sponsorship from Mercedes, IBM and Hilton Hotels to raffle cars, computers and holidays which subsidised the donations we received from old boys such as Kerry Packer. Maybe you could lean on your sponsors more.

Additionally, I hear your concern about the future of the Super rugby clubs and its impact on rugby in this great country of ours. Financially, we are in trouble. I have decided to not accept a fourth pay increase and instead donate this money to new water bottles for the successful Waratahs team and also new staff vehicles for the 18 business leaders in the ARU.

Finally, I am hoping to reschedule a few mini holidays I planned with my staff so that I might be able to watch the club finals for all divisions but I doubt my QANTAS points will be redeemed if I cancel trips so late.

All the best,

Bill Pulver

Loukah always comes to training. Loukah had a blinder on the weekend in 1st Grade. No coincidence. Get your lazy butt to training! Please.

(single) Playa of the Week - AJ Gray

Debut at Epping: 1992

Best qualities: Nice hair, sorta funny, like the Rams, score a lot of tries.

Favourite film: Remember the Titans

Favourite Band/Music: Chainsmokers

Where would you take a woman on a first date? The Oaks hotel... It has table tennis tables. I am still undefeated on dates.

If I was an animal I would be a Panda... because lovers like me are almost extinct!

Best pick up line: did you grow up on a farm, 'cause you certainly can raise a cock.

I'm looking for a ...virgin, doesn't smoke or drink, agrees with most things I say, trolls internet forums

Recipe of the Week

Want to impress the cheeks and kisses? Try this quick and easy Thai Red Chicken Curry. Buy 4 chicken breasts, 3 capsicums (1 of each colour), 1 large red chilli, some cashews, rice, 1 can of coconut milk and 1 bottle of sweet chilli sauce. Cook chicken and vegies in a stir fry pan. Cook rice. Throw in can of coconut milk. Add sweet chilli sauce, chopped chilli and cashew nuts. Add more sweet chilli dependent on taste. Eat and get laid.

Nominations are now open for the 2017 Rams Bachelor of the Year. I have received video nominations from Jimmy G, Tristo, Belly, Rhys and Groovy. Many more to come.

Rams, no one likes shrinkage, but for two nights a week I ask for you to please put your peckers out in the cold for some rugby training. It was disappointing that so many haven't been training regularly and we need you to be there as finals footy looms. I haven't been this disappointed since I went for a boob grope in Year 11 only to find out it was a padded bra. Thanks.
